EXTENSION DESCRIPTION

Google Translate is a multilingual service provided by Google Inc. to translate written text from one language into another.

Many clients require their website to be Multi-lingual, so that they can have large number of crowds on their Site. Magento handles this request by creating a multiple Store each of different language. On the Front side it provide the option to change the store. Creating Multiple store increase the work of Magento administrator, as they have to enter the content of each store for categories and Products. Developer work will increase as they have to maintain the language file for the Labels and heading. This will increase the Work load as well as load on the system.

To overcome this difficulties, we have come upon with “Goggle Translator for Magento” extension that use Google translate API to convert the store in different Language. This way Administrator do not have to manage content for multiple Store. Google Translate will manage the content on their own. The Best feature of this API is it allows us to modify the default translation.
