Hackett Technology Solutions Hyperion / Oracle

Data Across the Enterprise

Is your IT department still queuing report requests for coding? Are the data consumption needs of your business users growing more complex? Would you like to spend more time focusing on strategic initiatives like enterprise architecture and infrastructure and less time writing reports? Is an increased focus on accountability and performance visibility making you consider alternative solutions? If you're like most IT executives, you'd like to offer dashboard controls for business reporting and Business Intelligence (BI) solutions to meet data demands across the enterprise.

Hackett Technology Solutions' Oracle / Hyperion Business Intelligence and Business Intelligence Consulting services can help you institute the most effective Business Intelligence solutions that harness the complete power of the Hyperion /Oracle software.

Deeper Explanation of Our Services

Hackett Technology Solutions' Hyperion BI Practice consultants work exclusively on creating and delivering solutions for business intelligence that leverage Hyperion's System 9 BI and Oracle OBI EE. Oracle's Hyperion's System 9 BI and OBI EE suites offer a complete business intelligence platform addressing all types of ad hoc, management, financial and production reporting, and delivers highly interactive multi-source dashboards.

*"Hackett Technology Solutions* played an instrumental role in the US Airways merger with America West Airlines by helping integrate the financial analysis and reporting systems of the two companies into one. The team was able to quickly set up a combined budgeting system, which provided management with information and analysis needed to establish financial control of the newly merged company."*

This product suite streamlines deployment, management and administration to increase productivity and reduce total cost of ownership. Hackett Technology Solutions offers a comprehensive service team to provide success across Oracle's BI suite.

We can help you with any aspect of your Hyperion / Oracle BI applications. Some examples of our expertise include:

- Oracle OBIEE / Hyperion BI Platform—Based on our extensive best practices knowledge, our professionals design, develop, and implement solutions to support the Hyperion's System 9 BI and Oracle OBI EE platform. Our BI services solutions are designed to increase visibility into current performance, improve access to key financial and operational data, and enhance strategic decision-making. Our BI solutions are based on Hackett-Certified™ Practices and performance metrics.
- Hyperion Essbase and Tools—Our team of veteran Hyperion Essbase experts has extensive knowledge in all of the analytical and reporting tools from Hyperion. Our consultants have developed leading-edge analytical applications using the full range of development tools on both the Block Storage applications and the Aggregate Storage database engine. We also have extensive experience with all of the traditional Essbase tools, from Essbase Integration Server to Deployment Services and from MaxL to MDX. In addition, we offer deep expertise in Hyperion Web Analysis and Hyperion Reports, and with the Java, C and VB APIs.

- Business Intelligence Strategy and Development— Hackett Technology Solutions' BI strategy development program helps organizations build a best practice strategy plan around Oracle's BI solutions to best meet immediate needs and long-term goals.

We begin assisting you by conducting a diagnostic assessment that includes the following:

- Perform baseline assessment and gap analysis of systems/operations
- Establish vision for Business Intelligence, defining a desired state, both short- and long-term

Whether the requirement is dashboard reporting or ad-hoc analysis, the Hyperion System 9 BI+™ Platform is ready to provide the most complete solution. With many years of experience in both multi-dimensional analysis and relational reporting, Hackett Technology Solutions' experts are uniquely qualified to provide solutions for your analysis and reporting needs, regardless of data source.
