CAHME Mentorship Circle
As of June 1, 2018

Program	Topic
Major Activities and events
Ohio State University	The OSU case competition.
University of Alabama at Birmingham	The UAB case competition.
Program Mentoring
Baylor University	The program will work with CAHME and AACSB to host a joint site visits in January 2019 and help create a process for other business programs.
University of Scranton	The program will mentor global programs as part of CAHME's Global Accreditation Initiative.
University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill	The program will focus on helping programs in the areas of healthcare finance and diversity and inclusion.
Seton Hall University	The program will develop a mini faculty development boot-camp video. The program will also mentor a new program for CAHME Accreditation.
University of Minnesota	The program will focus on helping programs with curriculum review and development.
Best Practices
University of Kentucky	The program will share a best practice based on its final integrative examination.
University of Iowa	The program will share a best practice on the relationship between its mission, competency model, and competency assessment.
University of Missouri	The program will share a best practice on its integrated informatics curriculum.
University of Central Florida	The program will share a best practice based on its mentor pod concept.
Cornell University	The program will share a best practice based on its successful efforts to matriculate underrepresented minorities.
Other
Rush University	The program will establish a formal initiative to support excellence in the practitioner-teacher education and practice based learning.
Saint Louis University	The program will engage other programs in a Delphi approach review of the SLU Competency Model. The "SLU Competency Model" is used by programs other than Saint Louis.