DC Board of Elections Announces Schedule for Final Vote Count and Certification for Primary

Washington, D.C. – The District of Columbia Board of Elections (DCBOE) has announced the schedule for the final vote count and certification of results from Tuesday's (June 14th) DC Primary Election:

Wednesday, June 15, 2016:

All Special Ballots that have been preliminarily determined to be valid and Curbside Ballots will be tabulated. The status of special ballots is available online at: https://www.dcboee.org/voter_info/special_ballot/index.asp

As a reminder, all voters who used a special ballot in the DC primary were provided with the following information:

"If the Board rejects your special ballot, you have the right to appeal. If you wish to appeal, call 202-727-2194 to set a time for your appeal hearing, which will be held on the Thursday after Election Day at 441 4th Street, NW, Room 270 North between the hours of 9:00 AM and 4:45 PM. You may bring a lawyer to the hearing or you may represent yourself. You should bring evidence to show that your special ballot should be counted. If you do not win your appeal, you have one business day after the Board makes its final determination to appeal the decision to the Superior Court of the District of Columbia."

Thursday, June 16, 2016:

Board will hold hearings regarding Special Ballots that have been preliminarily rejected; last day for voters who cast special ballots to present verification of eligibility to vote in the election.

Friday, June 17, 2016:

Special Ballots cast by individuals who successfully appeal the Board's preliminary rejection of their ballots or who to present verification of eligibility to vote in the election will be tabulated.

June 23, 2016 (Tentative):

Final official voting results and certification will be announced.
