

The background of the poster is a dark, atmospheric photograph of a foggy street in Victorian London. In the center, a silhouette of a man wearing a top hat and a long coat stands on the street. To the right, a street lamp is visible, casting a soft glow. The overall mood is mysterious and historical.

Hunt for Jack the Ripper

Walk the streets of East End London 1888! In this presentation by Dr. Kevin Bolinger you will visit the slums of Victorian England and learn the history and mystery of the world's most notorious serial killer

Wednesday October 29th at 6pm
Lower level of Pickersl Hall