Copyright Tutorial On Web

The Scholarly Communication Center has created a "Copyright Web Tutorial" as part of its ongoing effort to increase copyright awareness and general copyright knowledge at NC State. This brief overview of important copyright basics can be found at <http://www.lib.ncsu.edu/libraries/SCC/Tutorial/main.html>. Topics include fair use, library issues, photocopying, the faculty, students, books, musical works, and the Internet. Questions about the tutorial can be addressed to the scholarly communication librarian, Peggy Hoon, who will be happy to discuss copyright concerns. Hoon works in close cooperation with the university's Office of Legal Affairs, the only office on campus providing legal advice.

The Scholarly Communication Center also offers workshops and presentations on copyright, fair use, and other scholarly communication topics to interested groups on campus. For further information, call the Scholarly Communication Center at ext. 3-2046 or send an e-mail message to peggy\_hoon@ncsu.edu. ♦

Environmental Health Information Service Now Available

The NCSU Libraries now provides access to the Environmental Health Information Service (EHIS), a service established by the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences. ## T. Edward Nickens To Give Special Lecture at NC State

The Friends of the Library of North Carolina State University will host a special lecture featuring natural history and wildlife writer T. Edward Nickens, on November 16, at 7:00 P.M. Nickens will discuss "Cape, River, Inlet, Sound: Where History Meets the Sea" by describing North Carolina's historic coastal landmarks and their place in the state's history. The talk is based on his award-winning stories about the North Carolina coast that appeared as a six-part series in Coastwatch, a magazine published by North Carolina State's Sea Grant Program. The reading is free and open to the public. It will be held in the Assembly Room on the second floor of the East Wing, D. H. Hill Library. For more information, please call the Friends of the Library at ext. 5-2841, or visit the FOL Web site at www.lib.ncsu.edu/libraries/administration/fol/. ♦
