

Applied Linguistics

Session 1: Introducing Applied Linguistics, the contribution of linguistics in language education as well as the scope and history of Applied Linguistics followed by introducing the syllabus.

Session 2: The second chapters of the book and Introduction to Applied Linguistics by Alan Davis is presented.

Session 3: The remaining parts of the chapter plus some articles are discussed.

Session 4: The third chapter of the book languages and languages practices is presented and discussed.

Session 5: Students are recommended of search articles! They are expected to report articles on the subject matters.

Session 6: Chapter four of the book, Applied Linguistics and Language learning teaching is presented and discussed both by the teacher and students.

Session 7: the Remains part of chapter four plus some articles are practiced and elaborated.

Session 8: chapter five of the some book is presented and lectured by the students in a form of discussion.

Session 9: Students are directed to report articles on the related subjects.

Session 10: Midterm Exam.

Session 11: chapter six of this book presented and students are engaged in classroom discussion.

Session 12: Remaining sections of the sixth chapter plus some articles on the selected concepts discussed.

Session 13: chapter seven of the book Applied Linguistics no bookish theories is presented.

Session 14: Students report articles from the social aforesaid chapters.

Session 15: The last chapter of the book the applied linguistics challenge is discussed.

Session 16: The remaining of sections of the last chapter Plus some articles by the students are reported and elaborated.