2014 Media Studies

Intermediate 1

The Unseen Analysis at Intermediate 1 is in the form of a submission to SQA for external Assessment which is made by centres in April of 2014.

Markers should check that each envelope contains a copy of the text for Unseen Analysis, Candidate scripts enclosed in Flyleaves, and Questions on the text. If either the text or questions are missing, please contact SQA at the number given in the general Marking Instructions.

Markers should then examine the questions to ascertain that they cover the prescribed key areas of Categories and Language. See the attached Question Bank for guidance.

Markers should then examine the text, reading, watching or listening to it.

Candidates should not be penalised because their cultural assumptions differ from those of the marker.

The maximum mark allocated by the centre for the Unseen Analysis is 20.

It is not a requirement to supply a marking scheme.

Use your professional judgement and mark the questions out of 20.

No more than half of the available marks should be awarded for the simple identification of concepts. Where questions differ from those specified in the Question Bank assign a mark to all questions and refer to PA.

Please write no comments on the work, but merely indicate by normal marking conventions (tick, cross, underline – or 1, 2 etc) what you think the answers are worth and put a total mark in the box on the flyleaf and on the EX6.

The Markers' meeting will offer advice in how to go about marking a number of example scripts. In cases of doubt, when you are unsure about any centres, text, questions or answers, please mark the work and refer it to the Principal Assessor so that a second opinion can be applied.

Question Bank

Instructions for constructing the Instrument of Assessment

1. Choose EITHER two OR three questions from those given in Section One: Categories.
2. Choose a maximum of 4 questions from those given in Section Two: Language. The questions may be chosen from more than one sub-section, ie: EITHER choose one question from General Questions that requires candidates to describe a combination of technical and cultural codes OR choose up to 4 questions from this Section as a whole that require candidates to describe a combination of technical and cultural codes.
3. Assign a total of 20 marks to the questions selected using the following formula:
 - (a) Allocate a minimum of 8 marks to Categories and 8 marks to Language. The remaining 4 marks should be allocated to either another Category or another Language question depending upon the richness of the unseen text selected and/or the abilities of the candidates in the cohort.
 - (b) Assign one mark for the identification of each category or code, and assign one mark for each expected piece of textual evidence.

Example:

Identify the form of the text and describe one element from the text that shows this. (2 marks)

- (c) No questions should have fewer than two marks assigned.
- (d) There should be a maximum of three questions which have only two marks assigned to them. All other questions should have 4 or more marks assigned to them.
- (e) There is no need to submit a marking scheme to SQA.
