The Spy and the Traitor

Ben Macintyre

Publicist: Dyana Messina |212-572-2098 | dmessina@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

The celebrated author of Agent Zigzag returns with his greatest spy story yet: the thrilling tale of Oleg Gordievsky, the Russian intelligence officer whose secret work helped hasten the end of the Cold War.

If anyone could be considered a Russian counterpart to the infamous British double agent Kim Philby, it was Oleg Gordievsky. For nearly a decade, as the Cold War reached its twilight, Gordievsky helped the West turn the tables on the KGB, exposing Russian spies and providing sensitive and game-changing insight into the Kremlin’s machinations. Desperate to keep the circle of trust close, MI6 refused to reveal the identity of its greatest asset to the CIA, which in turn grew obsessed with figuring out the identity of Britain’s obviously top-level source. Their obsession ultimately doomed Gordievsky: the CIA officer assigned to identify him was none other than Aldrich Ames, the man who would become infamous for secretly spying for the Soviets. Unfolding the delicious three-way gamesmanship among America, Britain, and the Soviet Union—all spying on one another—and culminating in the gripping cinematic beat by beat of Gordievsky’s nail-biting escape from Moscow in 1985, Ben Macintyre’s latest may be his best yet.

AUTHOR BIO

BEN MACINTYRE is a writer at large for the London Times and the bestselling author of A Spy Among Friends, Double Cross, Operation Mincemeat, Agent Zigzag, and Rogue Heroes, among other books. Macintyre has also written and presented BBC documentaries of his work.

Presidents of War

Michael Beschloss

Publicist: Rachel Rokicki | 212-782-8455 | rrokicki@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

From a preeminent presidential historian comes a groundbreaking and often surprising saga of how presidents, from 1807 to recent times, have taken Americans into war.

Presidents of War is a fresh, intimate, magisterial narrative of how a procession of chief executives led the nation into conflict and mobilized Americans for victory. From James Madison and the War of 1812 to our own time, we see these flesh-and-blood leaders struggling with Congress, the courts, the press, their own advisers, and antiwar protesters; seeking comfort from their spouses, families, and friends; and dropping to their knees in prayer. We come to understand how some of these presidents were able to brave the crushing pressures of war—both physically and emotionally—and how others were broken by them.

Michael Beschloss’s discoveries in original letters, diaries, and declassified documents, and his interviews with surviving participants, help him tell this crucial story in a way that makes it a classic. Ten years in the making, this important book shows how far we have traveled from the time of our Founders, who tried to constrain presidential power, to our modern day, when a single leader has the potential to launch nuclear weapons that can destroy much of the human race.

AUTHOR BIO

MICHAEL BESCHLOSS is the author of nine books on presidential history, including, most recently, the New York Times bestsellers Presidential Courage and The Conquerors, and was coauthor of the number one global bestseller Jacqueline Kennedy. He is the NBC News presidential historian and a PBS NewsHour contributor and has received an Emmy and six honorary degrees. Beschloss lives in Washington, DC.

SUMMARY

In a city run on industrialized magic, a war will be fought to overwrite reality itself—the first title in a new series.

Sancia Grado is a thief, and a damn good one. Her latest target, a heavily guarded warehouse on Tevanne’s docks, is nothing her unique abilities can’t handle. Unbeknownst to her, Sancia has been sent to steal an artifact of unimaginable power, an object that could revolutionize the magical technology known as “scriiving.” The Merchant Houses, who control this magic—the art of using coded commands to imbue everyday objects with sentience—have already used it to transform Tevanne into a vast, remorseless capitalist machine. But if they can unlock the artifact’s secrets, they will rewrite the world itself to suit their aims. To have a chance at stopping them, Sancia will have to marshal unlikely allies, harness the artifact’s power for herself, and undergo her own transformation—one that will turn her into something she could never have imagined.

SUMMARY

A love story about what happens after you meet, or rather, don’t meet, the one.

Laurie is pretty sure that love at first sight doesn’t exist anywhere outside of the movies. But then, through a misted-up bus window one snowy December day, she sees a man who she instantly knows is the one. Their eyes meet, there’s a moment of pure magic . . . and then her bus drives away. Laurie spends a year scanning every bus stop and cafe in London for him. But she doesn’t find him—not when it matters. Instead, they “reunite” at a Christmas party, when her best friend, Sarah, introduces her new boyfriend to Laurie. It’s Jack, the man from the bus. Of course. What follows for Laurie, Sarah, and Jack is 10 years of friendship, heartbreak, missed opportunities, and destinies reconsidered. One Day in December is a heartwarming and immensely moving love story, and a reminder that fate takes inexplicable turns along the route to happiness.

Only to Sleep

A Philip Marlowe Novel

Lawrence Osborne

Publicist: Dyana Messina | 212-572-2098
dmessina@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

A rich, dead American. His much younger—and now, very wealthy—wife. This case has Private Investigator Philip Marlowe’s name written all over it. Will he return for one last adventure? In this brilliant new novel, commissioned by the Raymond Chandler Estate, Lawrence Osborne brings one of literature’s most beloved and enduring detectives back to life, with a twist.

The year is 1988. The place, Baja California. Private Investigator Philip Marlowe—now in his 72nd year—is living out his retirement in the terrace bar of the La Fonda hotel. He’s sipping margaritas, playing cards, his silver-tipped cane at the ready, when two men dressed like undertakers saunter in with a case that has his name written all over it.

For Marlowe, this is his last roll of the dice, his swan song. His mission is to investigate Donald Zinn—who’s supposedly drowned off his yacht, leaving behind a much younger and now very rich wife. But is Zinn actually alive? Are the pair living off the spoils?

Set between the border and badlands of Mexico and California, Lawrence Osborne’s resurrection of the iconic Marlowe is an unforgettable addition to the Raymond Chandler canon.

AUTHOR BIO

LAWRENCE OSBORNE was born in England and has traveled and lived all over the world. He is the author of the critically acclaimed novels The Forgiven, The Ballad of a Small Player, Hunters in the Dark, and Beautiful Animals. Macbeth

A Novel

Jo Nesbø

Publicist: Rachel Rokicki | 212-782-8455
rrokicki@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

A heart-pounding new thriller from the author of The Snowman and The Thirst.

Set in the 1970s in a run-down, rainy industrial town, Jo Nesbø’s Macbeth centers around a police force struggling to shed an incessant drug problem. Duncan, chief of police, is idealistic and visionary, a dream to the townspeople but a nightmare for criminals. The drug trade is ruled by two drug lords, one of whom—a master of manipulation named Hecate—has connections with the highest in power, and plans to use them to get his way.

Hecate’s plot hinges on steadily, insidiously manipulating Inspector Macbeth: the head of SWAT and a man already susceptible to violent and paranoid tendencies. What follows is an unputdownable story of love and guilt, political ambition, and greed for more, exploring the darkest corners of human nature, and the aspirations of the criminal mind.

AUTHOR BIO

JO NESBØ is a musician, songwriter, and economist, as well as a writer. His Harry Hole novels include The Snowman, The Leopard, and Phantom, and he is the author of several stand-alone novels, including The Son, as well as the Doctor Proctor series of children’s books. Nesbø is the recipient of numerous awards, including the Glass Key for best Nordic crime novel.

A Novel

Claire Adam

Publicist: Rachel Rokicki | 212-782-8455

SUMMARY

A deeply affecting debut set in Trinidad, following the lives of a family as they navigate impossible choices.

Clyde Deyalsingh is a father determined to raise his sons well, as his two 13-year-old boys, Peter and Paul, struggle to survive against the lovely yet threatening backdrop of rural Trinidad. Peter is a gifted boy, quickly outgrowing the opportunities available to him at home, and Paul, who isn't quite right, still can't read and spends his time daydreaming and collecting snakeskins and flowers. When a sudden break-in results in one of the boys being kidnapped, Clyde finds himself isolated, up against once-familiar forces now terribly beyond his control, and faced with choices no parent should ever have to make.

Set in the precarious but beautiful Trinidad and Tobago, and written with a rare wisdom and elegant lyric, Golden Child is a resoundingly human story about aspiration, betrayal, and sacrifice.

How Democracies Die

Steven Levitsky and Daniel Ziblatt

Publicist: Crown Publicity | 212-572-2537
crownpublicity@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

In this New York Times bestseller, two Harvard professors draw on decades of research and a wealth of global and historical examples to show how democracies die—and how ours can be saved.

Donald Trump’s presidency has raised a question that many of us never thought we’d be asking: Is our democracy in danger? Harvard professors Steven Levitsky and Daniel Ziblatt have spent two decades studying the breakdown of democracies in Europe and Latin America, and they believe the answer is yes. Democracy no longer ends with a bang—in a revolution or military coup—but with a whimper: the slow, steady weakening of critical institutions such as the judiciary and the press, and the gradual erosion of political norms. The good news is that there are many exit ramps on the road to authoritarianism. The bad news is that, by electing Trump, we may have already passed the first one.

Drawing on decades of research and a wide range of global examples, Levitsky and Ziblatt show how democracies die—and how ours can be saved.

STEVEN LEVITSKY and DANIEL ZIBLATT are professors of government at Harvard University. Levitsky studies Latin America, and Ziblatt studies Europe from the 19th century onward. Both have written for Vox, the New York Times, and other publications.

Basketball

A Love Story

Jackie MacMullan and Rafe Bartholomew

Publicist: Tammy Blake | 212-572-2542 | tblake@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

A sweeping and revelatory history of basketball, drawing upon hundreds of hours of interviews with the greatest players, coaches, executives, and journalists in the history of the game.

In an effort to tell the complete story of basketball, celebrated journalists Jackie MacMullan and Rafe Bartholomew have compiled nearly a thousand hours' worth of interviews with a staggering number of basketball greats. They've talked to hundreds of legendary players, such as Kobe Bryant, LeBron James, and Magic Johnson, and spoken with renowned coaches, including Phil Jackson and Coach K, as well as numerous executives, commissioners, and journalists. The extraordinary quality of the interviews was most impressive, and again and again, players spoke candidly about secrets and told stories they'd never before discussed on the record.

The book that grew out of those interviews is an extraordinary project and quite possibly the most ambitious basketball book ever written. At once a definitive oral history and something far more literary and intimate, this is the never-before-told story of basketball.

AUTHOR BIO

JACKIE MACMULLAN is an analyst and writer for ESPN. Her books include the New York Times bestsellers When the Game Was Ours and Shaq Uncut. RAFE BARTHOLOMEW is the author of Pacific Rims. Always Look on the Bright Side of Life

A Sortabiography

Eric Idle

Publicist: Ellen Folan | 212-782-8944 | efolan@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

From the brilliant comedian, founding member of Monty Python, and creator of Spamalot, comes an absurdly funny memoir of unparalleled wit and heartfelt candor.

We know him best for his unforgettable roles with Monty Python—from the Flying Circus to The Meaning of Life. Now Eric Idle reflects on the meaning of his own life in this entertaining memoir that takes us on an unforgettable journey from his childhood in an austere boarding school through his successful career in comedy, television, theater, and film. Coming of age as a writer and comedian during the '60s and '70s, Idle stumbled into the crossroads of the cultural revolution and found himself rubbing shoulders with the likes of George Harrison, David Bowie, and Robin Williams, all of whom became dear, lifelong friends. In Always Look on the Bright Side of Life, named for the song Idle wrote for Life of Brian (which, incidentally, has since become the number one song played at funerals in the UK), he shares the highlights of his life and career with the kind of offbeat humor that has delighted audiences for five decades. The year 2019 marks the 50th anniversary of The Pythons, and Idle is marking the occasion with this hilarious memoir, chock-full of behind-the-scenes stories from a high-flying life featuring everyone from Princess Leia to Queen Elizabeth.

AUTHOR BIO

ERIC IDLE is an English comedian, actor, author, and singer-songwriter who found immediate fame with the sketch comedy show Monty Python's Flying Circus. Following its success, the group began making films, which include Holy Grail (1975), Life of Brian (1979), and The Meaning of Life (1983). Idle also wrote the smash Broadway musical Spamalot, which won three Tonys, including Best Musical.

She Wants It

Desire, Power, and Toppling the Patriarchy

Jill Soloway

Publicist: Kathryn Santora | 212-572-2544
ksantora@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

From the creator of Transparent comes a poignant memoir of personal and professional transformation.

When Jill Soloway’s father came out to her as transgender in his 70s, not only did their revelation coincide with the beginning of Jill’s professional transition from finding success as a writer and showrunner to coming into her own as a filmmaker and director, but it also shed light on her shifting feelings about her own sexual and gender identity. Through the characters in her Emmy Award–winning television series, Transparent, Jill explores the nuances of the trans experience, the complicated dynamics of family, and the search for love and meaning in relationships. Now, in She Wants It, Jill charts her own journey from a straight cisgendered woman making her way within the male-dominated confines of Hollywood to a nonbinary genderqueer person calling for the toppling of the patriarchy . . . and sparking a revolution in the process. By turns inspiring and thought-provoking, this beautifully written, candid memoir explores the ways in which Jill’s entire worldview has changed in the wake of Transparent and helped open her up to a whole new truth about herself.

AUTHOR BIO

JILL SOLOWAY is the Emmy and Golden Globe Award–winning creator of Transparent. Previously, they were a writer and an executive producer for Six Feet Under, How to Make It in America, and United States of Tara. Soloway’s first feature film, Afternoon Delight, won the 2013 Directing Award at Sundance. They cocreated and directed the Amazon series I Love Dick. Soloway lives in Los Angeles.

Instant Loss Cookbook

Cook Your Way to a Healthy Weight with 125 Easy and Delicious Recipes for Your Instant Pot®, Electric Pressure Cooker, Multicooker, and More!

Brittany Williams

Publicist: Tammy Blake | 212-572-2542
tblake@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

One hundred twenty-five recipes from the charming blogger who lost more than 125 pounds in a year by making all her meals in an Instant Pot.

Brittany Williams struggled with her weight all of her life. She grew up eating the standard American diet and hit a peak weight of 260 pounds. When her young daughter’s autoimmune disease was helped by a low-sugar, dairy-free, grain-free, whole-food-based diet, Williams realized she owed herself the same kind of healing, so she vowed to make every meal for a year from scratch, aided by her new Instant Pot. The versatility, speed, and ease of the pressure cooker made creating family-satisfying meals a breeze, usually in under 30 minutes. The family thrived and Williams lost an astonishing 125 pounds.

With more than 40 full-color photos, these 125 gluten-free, dairy-optional recipes and meal plans use approachable ingredients and are the clearest guides to navigating your cooker that you’ll find. This book shows how to make healthy eating convenient.

AUTHOR BIO

BRITTANY WILLIAMS—a mother of three, blogger, and self-proclaimed lover of food—decided to make a big change in her diet by removing processed snacks, takeout, and high-calorie meals from her family’s menus and replacing those foods with healthier meals that she could make in her Instant Pot. She has been featured in media, including Good Morning America, the Today show, and more. Williams started blogging in April 2017 (Instantloss.com has 1.5 million page views a month) and she already has more than 200,000 followers across platforms.

The Food of Northern Thailand

Austin Bush

Publicist: Natasha Martin | 212-782-8370
namartin@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

The Food of Northern Thailand is a beautiful deep-dive into a regional cuisine, with a documentarian approach and photographic eye.

The food of northern Thailand is a world away from the highly refined, Chinese-influenced style of cooking in Bangkok that most of us are familiar with. It’s a cuisine with its own distinct identity, one that is rustic and earthy; one with roots in the Thai repertoire but with branches that extend into unfamiliar areas; a cuisine that feels ancient, but is ever evolving. A writer, photographer, and travel-guide writer, Austin Bush has lived in Thailand for nearly 20 years. In this book, Bush travels across northern Thailand to talk to the region’s home cooks, academics, restaurateurs, writers, and hawkers. Their stories, along with Bush’s photographs, capture the people, countryside, markets, and, of course, dishes and cooking techniques of northern Thailand. Each chapter in the book will focus on a single province, giving a snapshot of the meals, staple ingredients, cooking methods, and people specific to that area.

AUTHOR BIO

AUSTIN BUSH has lived in Thailand since 1999. He speaks, reads, and writes fluent Thai and has written extensively about Thai food. His writing and photography have appeared in more than 20 books for Lonely Planet, as well as media outlets such as Bon Appétit, Condé Nast Traveler, the New York Times, Saveur, Travel + Leisure Southeast Asia, and the Wall Street Journal Asia, among others. His blog was a finalist in Saveur magazine’s Best Food Blogs awards. Bush works closely with Andy Ricker and has photographed the New York Times bestseller Pok Pok and its follow-up, The Drinking Food of Thailand.

The Truffle Underground

A Tale of Mystery, Mayhem, and Manipulation in the Shadowy Market of the World’s Most Expensive Fungus

Ryan Jacobs

Publicist: Erica Gelbard | 212-572-6182
egelbard@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

The Truffle Underground takes the reader through the underworld of the truffle industry.

Beneath the glossy veneer of star chefs and crystal-laden tables, a hidden world of intrigue, sabotage, and crime undergirds the elegance of truffles: Feuding factions plant poisoned meatballs in competitors’ fields to eliminate rival truffle-hunting dogs. Crime syndicates steal research from the labs of scientists attempting to cultivate them. Unsuspecting foragers are held at gunpoint while bandits lift an entire month’s worth of income from their trunks. The Truffle Underground has all the makings of the next compulsively readable food exposé, a deeply researched dive into the dark origins of the world’s most valuable fungus—from the scientific mysteries of their growth to brutal crimes in the forests and the white-collar crimes that surround this secretive industry. Through it all, a question lingers: What, other than money, draws people to these dirt-covered knobs?

RYAN JACOBS is an investigative reporter and a senior editor at Pacific Standard. He has previously held positions at Mother Jones, Sierra, and The Atlantic. While at The Atlantic, Jacobs’s article profiling the truffle underworld went viral and became one of the most viewed articles of 2014.

A Field Guide to Smashing the Patriarchy and Claiming Your Space

Cristen Conger and Caroline Ervin
Illustrated by Tyler Feder

Publicist: Kristin Casemore | 510-285-2944 | kristin.casemore@tenspeed.com

SUMMARY

A funny, fact-driven, and illustrated field guide to patriarchy-smashing feminist living from the hosts of the hugely popular podcasts Unladylike and Stuff Mom Never Told You.

Get ready to get woke! Unladylike is a fully intersectional, fully unapologetic, and fully radical guide that examines why and how the patriarchy is alive and well, and how fierce modern women can smash it to live their best lives. Drawing upon examples from herstory and the best of contemporary feminist thinking, this illustrated field guide addresses the issues modern women grapple with in their daily lives—the wage gap, sex, beauty standards, body image, rape culture, and more—and offers practical advice on how to understand and deal with them like a boss. Covering both the political and personal implications of modern feminism with wit and sass, Unladylike is full of facts, social commentary, and practical advice that empower readers to make the future female.

SUMMARY

Based on the popular Viceland television series, this cannabis cookbook will blow all others out of the water, featuring 65 “high”-end recipes for sweet and savory dishes as well as cocktails.

Going well beyond pot brownies, Bong Appétit is the Joy of Cooking for a new generation interested in making serious, sophisticated food with marijuana. Starting with the science, it breaks down the basics of decarboxylation—think infusing oil or butter with weed to get the good stuff out—and continues with a host of recipes ranging from weed butter-basted roast chicken to weed chimichurri to weed brownie pudding. Along the way, the book hits on marijuana breeding, politics, dosage calculation, and pairing strains and flavors, marshaling the Munchies network of friends and experts, including Bong Appétit stars Ry Prichard and Vanessa Lavorato. As the reigning voice in a vast landscape of channels that aim to bridge the high and the low, Munchies sets the standard for marijuana cookbooks in a new political and culinary landscape.

Ottolenghi Simple

A Cookbook

Yotam Ottolenghi

Publicist: David Hawk | 510-285-2951 | david.hawk@tenspeed.com

SUMMARY

Author, chef, and restaurateur Yotam Ottolenghi presents 140 delicious, pared-down recipes that are packed with his signature nuanced flavors, without the complexity of his previous cookbooks.

Beloved for his innovative recipes that incorporate flavor-packed Middle Eastern ingredients, superstar chef Yotam Ottolenghi has become a household name the world over. And while countless home cooks have been inspired to integrate tahini, pomegranate molasses, za'atar, and other Middle Eastern staples into their cooking, sometimes the long ingredients lists or hard-to-find recipe components relegate these recipes to weekend projects. In Simple, Ottolenghi presents a collection of flavor-forward dishes that are packed with his signature nuanced flavors that can be made easily in one or more ways: in 30 minutes or less, with 10 or fewer ingredients, in a single pot, using pantry staples, or prepared ahead of time for easy weeknight meals. Recipes like Roasted Baby Carrots with Harissa and Pomegranate and Spring Roast Chicken with Preserved Lemon are organized by type of dish, making any meal brilliantly, deliciously simple.

AUTHOR BIO

YOTAM OTTOLENGHI is the author or coauthor of six New York Times bestselling cookbooks, including Jerusalem, which was awarded Cookbook of the Year by the International Association of Culinary Professionals and Best International Cookbook by the James Beard Foundation. Ottolenghi lives in London, where he owns an eponymous group of restaurants and a high-end restaurant, Nopi.

Speeches of Note

An Eclectic Collection of Orations
Deserving of a Wider Audience

Shaun Usher

Publicist: David Hawk | 510-285-2951
david.hawk@tenspeed.com

SUMMARY

A lavishly illustrated collection of 80 of history’s most interesting, profound, and sometimes unknown speeches.

A uniquely curated and artfully illustrated book designed to be read and displayed, Speeches of Note celebrates oratory old and new, highlighting the speeches we know and admire, including those of Winston Churchill, Ida B. Wells, Sitting Bull, and Martin Luther King Jr., while also shining a light on those speeches which, despite their brilliance, have until now been ignored or forgotten. From George Bernard Shaw’s warm and rousing toast to Albert Einstein in 1930 and the commencement address affectionately given to graduates at Long Island University by Kermit the Frog, to a beautiful eulogy for Marilyn Monroe delivered at her funeral by mentor Lee Strasberg and the chilling public announcement (that was thankfully never made) by President Richard Nixon should Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin become stranded on the moon, each speech is accompanied by a brief introduction to provide cultural context, as well as a photograph of the speaker or the speech being made, and a gorgeous illustration or a facsimile of the original speech itself.

Cocktail Codex

Origins, Fundamentals, Formulas

Alex Day, Nick Fauchald, and David Kaplan

Publicist: Erin Welke | 510-285-2948
erin.welke@tenspeed.com

SUMMARY

From the authors of the genre-defining Death & Co, Cocktail Codex gives drink-makers of every level the tools to understand, execute, and improvise classic and original cocktails.

“There are only six cocktails.” So say David Kaplan, Alex Day, and Nick Fauchald, the visionaries behind the seminal craft cocktail bar Death & Co. In Cocktail Codex, these experts reveal for the first time their surprisingly simple approach to mastering cocktails: the “cocktail families,” six easily identifiable (and memorizable) templates that encompass all cocktails. Once you understand the hows and whys of each family, you’ll understand when to shake and when to stir, what you can omit or substitute when you’re missing ingredients, why you like the drinks you do, and what sorts of drinks you should turn to—or invent—if you want to try something new.

AUTHOR BIO

DAVID KAPLAN is the founder and owner of Death & Co, a New York City nightlife destination, as well as the co-owner of Proprietors LLC, a full-service hospitality company (Death & Co, Nitecap, One Fifty One, Honeycut, The Normandie Club, and more), with ALEX DAY. NICK FAUCHALD is a Brooklyn-based writer, editor, and publisher of print and digital products. He’s been an editor at Food & Wine, Wine Spectator, and Every Day with Rachael Ray magazines. From 2008 to 2011, he was the editor in chief of Tasting Table. Kaplan, Day, and Fauchald are the coauthors of Death & Co.

Imagine It Forward

Courage, Creativity, and the Power of Change

Beth Comstock

Publicist: Megan Perritt | 212-572-2543 | mperritt@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

From one of today’s foremost innovation leaders, an inspiring and practical guide to mastering change in the face of relentless uncertainty.

The world will never be slower than it is right now, says Beth Comstock, the former vice chair and head of marketing and innovation at GE. But confronting the relentless pace of change is hard. Employees get downsized; companies find themselves disrupted as challengers steal away customers. To thrive in today’s world, every one of us has to become a change-maker.

In Imagine It Forward, Comstock shares lessons from a 30-year career as the change-maker in chief, on spotting trends and driving innovation. As the woman who spearheaded Ecomagination, and GE’s famed FastWorks methodology, she helped to turn a process-heavy, risk-averse culture to one that increasingly embraced transparency, adaptability, iteration, and discovery. She shows how each one of us can—in fact, must—become a change-maker by giving ourselves permission to imagine a better way.

It requires the courage to defy convention, the resilience to overcome doubts, and the savvy to know when to go around corporate gatekeepers to reinvent what is possible.

AUTHOR BIO

BETH COMSTOCK is the former vice chair of GE, where for 25 years she led GE’s efforts to accelerate new growth. She built GE’s Business Innovations and GE Ventures, which develops new businesses, and oversaw the reinvention of GE Lighting. She was named GE’s chief marketing officer in 2003. She served as president of integrated media at NBC Universal from 2006 to 2008, overseeing ad revenue and the company’s digital efforts, including the early formation of Hulu. She is a board director of Nike. Written about and profiled extensively in the media, from the New York Times to Forbes, Fortune, and Fast Company, she has been named to the Fortune and Forbes lists of the World’s Most Powerful Women.

Thirst

A Story of Redemption, Compassion, and a Mission to Bring Clean Water to the World

Scott Harrison

Publicist: Megan Schumann | 212-782-9760 | mschumann@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

From the founder of charity: water and one of Fast Company’s “most creative people in business,” a memoir about redemption, second chances, and the transformative power that exists within us all.

In 2004, Scott Harrison moved to West Africa after a decade of working as a top nightclub promoter in New York City. Desperately unhappy and spiritually bankrupt, he asked himself the question: “What would the opposite of my life look like?” This question led Harrison to found charity: water, an organization that has brought clean drinking water to more than 7 million people worldwide.

In Thirst, Harrison tells the unlikely story of how charity: water became one of the most respected nonprofits active today. World-renowned for their transparency, their innovative marketing, and their model in which 100 percent of public donations go to projects in the field, charity: water has disrupted the nonprofit sector and found innovative ways to restore trust in charity.

In the bestselling tradition of Mountains Beyond Mountains, Thirst is a moving story of personal redemption and a first-rate account of how to build an organization worth believing in.

AUTHOR BIO

Scott has been recognized on Fortune’s 40 Under 40 list, Forbes’s Impact 30 list, and Fast Company’s 100 Most Creative People in Business. Wisdom at Work

The Making of a Modern Elder

Publicist: Megan Schumann | 212-782-9760

SUMMARY

A celebration of the value of wisdom in the workplace and a playbook for how to thrive in the second half of our careers.

In a world that venerates the young, many in mid-career feel threatened by the “digital natives” nipping at our heels. Igniting an urgent conversation about age and ageism in the workplace, Chip Conley argues that experience is on the brink of a comeback.

At age 52, after selling the boutique hotel company he founded and ran for 24 years, Conley joined Airbnb as an adviser and mentor to the millennial founders. From this experience emerged the secret to thriving as a midlife worker in today’s world: learning to marry wisdom and experience with curiosity, a beginner’s mind, and a willingness to evolve. Whether you’ve been forced to make a mid-career change, are choosing to work past retirement age, or are struggling to keep up with the millennials rising up the ranks, Wisdom at Work will help you write your next chapter.

AUTHOR BIO

CHIP CONLEY is a bestselling author, hospitality entrepreneur, and strategic adviser at Airbnb. At age 26, he founded Joie de Vivre Hospitality and turned it into the second-largest boutique-hotel brand in the world. In 2013, he joined Airbnb as head of Global Hospitality and Strategy and helped turn it into the world’s largest hospitality brand. Conley has received hospitality’s highest honor, the Pioneer Award, and sits on the boards of the Burning Man Project and the Esalen Institute. He is the bestselling author of Peak and Emotional Equations and holds a BA and an MBA from Stanford University.

Blitzscaling

The Lightning-Fast Path to Building Massively Valuable Companies

Reid Hoffman and Chris Yeh

Publicist: Megan Perritt | 212-572-2543
mperritt@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

LinkedIn cofounder, legendary investor, and bestselling author Reid Hoffman reveals the secret to building massively valuable companies.

What entrepreneur or founder doesn’t aspire to build the next Facebook, Uber, or Airbnb? Yet those who actually manage to do so are rare. What separates the start-ups that get disrupted and disappear from those that become global giants?

The secret is “blitzscaling”: a set of techniques that allow start-ups and established companies alike to scale up at a dizzying pace that overtakes the market. The objective of blitzscaling is not to go from zero to one, but from one to one billion, as quickly as possible.

When growing at a breakneck pace, getting to the next level requires very different strategies from those that got you where you are today. The authors reveal how to navigate the necessary shifts and unique challenges that arise at each stage of a company’s life cycle, and offer a framework that companies of any size can follow.

AUTHOR BIO

REID HOFFMAN is a partner at Greylock Partners. He cofounded LinkedIn in 2003; it now has more than 200 million members. He was an early investor in Facebook, Flickr, Last.fm, and Zynga, and a founding board member at PayPal, where he was executive vice president. He earned two bachelor’s degrees from Stanford University and an MBA from Harvard Business School. He is coauthor of The Alliance with Reid Hoffman and Ben Casnocha.

Burden

A Preacher, a Klansman, and a True Story of Redemption in the Modern South

Courtney Hargrave

Publicist: Megan Perritt | 212-572-2543 | mperritt@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

Soon to be a major motion picture starring Forest Whitaker and produced by Robbie Brenner (Dallas Buyers Club), a harrowing true story of the modern Ku Klux Klan and a surprising act of grace in the Deep South.

In 1996, the town of Laurens, South Carolina, entered the international spotlight when a white supremacist named Michael Burden opened a museum celebrating the Ku Klux Klan on the town square. Journalists, protestors, and hate groups flooded Laurens, dredging up the long history of racial violence in Laurens.

The events of that year are the subject of an upcoming film starring Forest Whitaker, Tom Wilkinson, and Usher Raymond that won the 2018 Sundance Audience Award. Shortly after his museum opened, Michael Burden abruptly left the Klan and was taken in by Reverend David Kennedy, an African American preacher and leader in the Laurens community who plunged his church into a quest to save their former enemy.

In this spellbinding southern epic, journalist Courtney Hargrave uncovers the complex events behind the friendship portrayed in the film, exploring the social factors that drive young men to join hate groups and the difference one person can make in confronting America’s oldest sin.

AUTHOR BIO

COURTNEY HARGRAVE is a journalist and coauthor who has worked on numerous New York Times bestsellers in the entertainment space.

To Shake the Sleeping Self

A 14,000-Mile Bike Trip, and One Man’s
Quest to Live a Life with No Regrets

Jedidiah Jenkins

Publicist: Ellen Folan | 212-782-8944
efolan@penguinrandomhouse.com

SUMMARY

An Instagram phenomenon delivers an unforgettable account of his desperate ride south on the road away from ordinary.

On the eve of turning 30, terrified of being sucked into a life he didn’t choose, Jedidiah Jenkins quit his dream job and spent the next 16 months cycling from Oregon to Patagonia. He chronicled the trip on Instagram, where his photos and profound reflections on life soon attracted hundreds of thousands of followers and got him featured by National Geographic and The Paris Review.

In this unflinchingly honest memoir, Jenkins narrates the adventure that started it all: the people and places he encountered on his way to the bottom of the world, and the internal journey that prompted it—the question of what it means to be an adult; his struggle to reconcile his sexual identity with his conservative Christian upbringing; and his belief in travel as a way to “wake us up” to our lives back home.

AUTHOR BIO

JEDIDIAH JENKINS is a travel writer, entrepreneur, and executive editor of Wilderness magazine. A graduate of USC and Pepperdine University School of Law, Jenkins began his professional career as one of the founders of the nonprofit Invisible Children, where he orchestrated the viral Kony 2012 campaign. SUMMARY

An Amish woman is determined to provide her community with better health care—but will it mean giving up a lifetime of love?

Twenty-four-year-old Holly Zook lives a unique life for an Old Order Amish woman. Years ago, her bishop allowed her to continue her education and approved her working for Greene’s Pharmacy, a small-town drugstore that looks out for the Amish community—a group largely suspicious of Englisher medicine. The loss of Holly’s father to a treatable disease has turned her into a crusader for health care among the Amish, and she can’t pursue marriage or a family while pouring herself into controversial work.

As long as Holly continues to avoid Joshua Smucker, the one man who she’s drawn to like a warm hearth in winter, she’ll be fine. When an unusual mystery threatens to shutter Greene’s Pharmacy, Holly and Joshua must work together to save her employer—and sidestep falling in love at Christmastime.
